

Millennium Manifesto

Wake up, Europe!
You're killing yourself!

All over Europe there are more deaths than births of Europeans.

And no foreigner is doing this to the Europeans. They are doing it to themselves. In 50 years there will be very few Europeans; in 100 years who knows how many there will be left.

You yourselves are waging the most terrible war that ever happened against Europe, a silent and very efficient war to destroy and kill yourself. Europeans are disappearing slowly but surely.

You think you are going against the Church, but you are going against yourselves!

A selfish, self-centered code of ethics that promotes the disappearance of European children. Birth control, abortion, divorce, drugs, euthanasia, assisted suicide.

An insatiable greed for money that drives Europeans to kill physically and morally other Europeans.

The Catholic Church condemns all those things because the Catholic Church, like Her founder, Jesus Christ, loves people. Not in vain is he called the Savior of the world and the Savior of Europe too.

The white people despise the dark people meanwhile the white people are diminishing. The dark people are growing and sadly contemplate that the white people are disappearing.

Each race is a treasure to humanity and the Church always defends it as such. Isn't it ironic that the same white race that some are mistakenly promoting as supreme is the race that is destroying itself? The price of pride is always self-destruction.

How incomprehensible that Europeans can be doing so much to save certain endangered species of animals, while at the same time doing little or nothing to preserve themselves from extinction.

Wake up, Europeans, wake up! You're driving your beautiful, comfortable, luxurious car slowly, and picking up speed- into the abyss of self-destruction.

Once again, as always, following the teaching of the Savior of the world, Jesus Christ, Europe and the world will be saved in the new millennium.

The sexual revolution has destroyed the beauty of romance in the human love, converting it into a pure animalistic event, and even less than animalistic, because even the birds and many other animals have their courtship before they mate.

In human beings it is not only the action/the genitals, not only of the whole body because even the intellect is in action and even more so the spirits, because there are two bodies with their spirits, which as a result of their mutual action create another body with a spirit. In this, like in so many other human actions, the intellect might not be totally aware of the total action/the spirits.

Human romance has created among the most beautiful works in art, in literature, in music, in poetry, etc.

And last, not least, God directly creates the soul in the matter prepared by two human beings, body, and spirit.

It is a fact that women who have many children are healthier, much more active, and they work much less because they divide the tasks or chores of the house among all of their children, teaching them, in fact, the human importance of being willing to share, an excellent quality for any type of life. Mothers of big families are happier, more satisfied, and tend to complain much less. Nature teaches them to be more positive in their outlook on life."

UNDERPOPULATION PROBLEMS ON THE RISE

(cwnews.com) European government officials have begun to warn that pension systems for the retired and elderly face economic collapse because there are too few children being born to pay into the systems as the population ages.

At the same time the United Nations issued a warning that the world faces a problem of underpopulation, despite previous warnings by UN agencies and other groups of overpopulation. The UN puts the blame for underpopulation on government policies over the past half century that decreased the fertility rate among citizens, leaving many countries with a negative birthrate.

The UN has reported that 61 nations and all of Europe now fall below fertility replacement.

There is also concern in Europe that the increased strain on the medical systems will lead to increased euthanasia, even involuntary.

“Europe is dying because of population control efforts,” said Mark DeYoung, director of World Life League. “Birthrates in Russia have been cut in half since 1998. Russia’s population is plummeting at a rate of half a million per year. Italy is in even worse demographic straits,” DeYoung continued. “Italy’s population will decrease from 57 million to 41 million by the middle of this century.” Overall, Europe’s population will fall by 122 million in the next 50 years. Leaders of these nations must make drastic changes in policy to ensure survival of their people.”

To maintain a stable population of a country, the Total Fertility Rate must be at least 2,2 children born per woman. In ----- the Total Fertility Rate is A,A children born per woman

It always happens, like it did with the propoganda of overpopulation, that when man plays God it always fires back.

Now the lives of those who propogated the myth of the overpopulation, those who believed in it, and even the lives of innocent souls are in danger in their old age with the voluntary and involuntary euthanasia.

Cooperate with the creator!

“God blessed them and said:
Be fruitful and multiply, fill the earth.”
(Gen. 1:28)

“Europe’s unity needs Christian unity.”
“The more families flourish, the more society flourishes.”
